

Front End Mobile Developer

KoverNow is a Singapore-based insurtech start-up launching its first product in Singapore in Q3 2021. We are passionate about making insurance as easy, transparent and intuitive as using your banking app. To do that, we decompartmentalize existing insurance products, organise them along user's lifestyle choices and offer them B2C on our app.

To build out our product portfolio and platform utility, we are looking for a dynamic, organized self-starter to join our growing team. You will be part of an international team and work in collaboration with outsourced development professionals. You should have some experience in building transactional B2C apps, with some exposure to the challenges of co-operating and working with outsourced development teams.

Skillset

- Degree in Computer Science, IT or equivalent
- Experience in Flutter, Firebase, Node/Javascript
- Familiarity in Web services
- Working knowledge of big data concepts, micro-services
- Relevant internships and/ or work experience

Opportunity

You will be working directly with the founders and management of KoverNow on every project and contributing directly to our business plan. As an organisation, we believe in lifelong learning and will sponsor relevant courses to invest in your professional development.

The opportunity is for a full-time position in Singapore.

Compensation

Monthly SGD 4,000 - 6,000 (compensation will be commensurate with experience)

You will also be eligible to participate in KoverNow's Preferred Share Option Plan (PSOP).

About us

KoverNow was founded by Stephan Kaiser and Robert Clara in the UK in May 2019 with a vision to deconstruct insurance and turn it into a lovable service for a millennial generation across SEA. The firm moved its office to Singapore in March 2020, aligning its presence with its regional ambition and establishing Singapore as the company's hub.
